A friend of mine gave me a Century 125GL the other day. He said he could never get it to work right. He used it to weld some trailer house I beams for a shop and it work "just ok". I took it and put on a new spool of Hobart .030 Flux core wire (E71T-11) to test (no gas). It is strapped for DCEN per the picture on the back of the lid. Took some 2" angle 1/8" thick and could not get it to ...
