The Five Levels Of Leadership By John Maxwell

While this is still a good statement, I believe if we are going to follow the guidance of The Leader in Me, we need to make our statement focus more on the students becoming "leaders", not only academic success. Once the students feel like they are a leader and have self-worth, then the academics in turn will improve.

Level 1: Position This is the lowest level of leadership—the entry level. People who make it only to Level 1 may be bosses, but they are never leaders. They have subordinates, not team members.

Habit One: Be Proactive - The Leader in Me

The Leader in Me is basically a philosophy that schools are taught to weave into every aspect of the school day. It's not a curriculum or an instructional method, but rather a school culture model in which students learn Stephen Covey's 7 Habits of Happy Kids, a spin-off from his original book, The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People.
