Global Biopiracy rethinks the role of international law and legal concepts, the Western-based, Eurocentric patent systems of the world, and international agricultural research institutions as they affect legal ownership and control of plants and TKUP. The analysis is cast in various contexts and examined at multiple levels.

Rhythm Science by Paul D. Miller - Goodreads

“Paul D. Miller – aka DJ Spooky, that Subliminal Kid – is an underground treasure. An African-American cultural theorist-cum-musician, his Rhythm Science (Mediaworks) is a sharp, sweetly designed little number, a manifesto for his way of looking at the world.

Mediaworks Pamphlets | The MIT Press

Rhythm Science does however do a good job of planting seeds in ones' mind with respect to reconsidering what function a DJ performs, and what meaning or influence music can bring. Unfortunately it suffers from a lack of direction, jumping from one concept to another, rarely giving each one as much consideration as it deserves.
