Speculative realism is a movement in contemporary Continental-inspired philosophy (also known as post-Continental philosophy) that defines itself loosely in its stance of metaphysical realism against the dominant forms of post-Kantian philosophy (or what it terms "correlationism"). Speculative realism takes its name from a conference held at Goldsmiths College, University of London in April 2007.

Yesterday I started Against Continuity: Gilles Deleuze's Speculative Realism (by Arjen Kleinherenbrink) and I would like to hear your opinions on the author's reading of the concept. Even though the book seems flimsy at times and the chapters I read thus far have many holes in them, I wouldn't necessarily call this interpretation wrong. I will try to lay out his notion, but you can also read ...
